Weekend Update

The Manchester Police Department responded to separate store robberies, a barricaded subject and a criminal threatening involving a firearm over the past three days. The various calls mentioned are above and beyond the multitude of other calls they received during the same time frame.

Officers were dispatched to 1235 Elm Street at 7:30 p.m. on Friday night for a report of a man threatening workers with a handgun. Units arrived on scene and spoke with several witnesses to include the victim; Daniel Shattuck, 22 of Nashua, New Hampshire.

Shattuck, who works for a moving company, was moving items inside of 1235 Elm Street when an unknown male approached Shattuck and his coworkers. The unknown man spewed multiple profanities while yelling at them to quiet down. The man left and came back to their location on the sidewalk several minutes later. This time however, he was armed with a large handgun. He allegedly pointed it at Shattuck while standing approximately six feet away from him. He never said a word to Shattuck and disappeared after a few seconds.

Officers ultimately located and arrested Thomas McLaughlin, 50 of Manchester, New Hampshire. McLaughlin, Sasha Badger, 53 and Brandon Brown, 29 all exited the apartment after units called them out of apartment #7. Both McLaughlin and badger willingly exited the apartment, but Brown refused.

McLaughlin was charged with Criminal Threatening (F) and Felon in Possession of a Dangerous Weapon. They located a .44 caliber Revolver style handgun. Brown was charged with Resisting Arrest/Detention due to the fact he refused to exit the apartment. Both appeared in the 9th Circuit Court-Manchester on May 23, 2016.

Additional Units responded to C & D Country Convenience, 250 Laurel Street at approximately 11:05 p.m. Friday evening for a reported robbery. The victim, David Bailey, 61 of Manchester, New Hampshire stated an unknown male had entered the store while holding a knife.

Bailey stated the unknown man was approximately 5’02-5’08 pointed the knife at him and demanded cash from the register. He conceded and handed him an undisclosed amount of cash. He said the Caucasian assailant was last seen wearing a black mask, black jacket and black jeans. The man also ripped the clerk’s cell phone out of his hand before fleeing on foot.

An attempted robbery was reported on May 22 at N&N Express, 230 Lowell Street, approximately 7:50 p.m. The clerk pressed a panic alarm and alerted police of an unknown incident.

Several employees physically restrained a male subject who reportedly walked into the store armed with a knife, which was kept on his waistnband. The subject walked behind the counter and allegedly ordered the clerk to give him cash. The clerk noticed a large sheath on the man’s hip, so he tackled him as he attempted to take money off of the counter.

Both the clerk, Chaudhry Nawaz, 23 and his cousin, Moazam Khan, 25 took the man to the ground and held him until police arrived on scene. Officer Matthew Mara was able to place Michael Renfrew, 27 of Manchester, New Hampshire into custody. Renfrew was charged with Attempted Robbery and Felon in Possession of a Deadly Weapon. He was in possession of two knives. He appeared in the 9th Circuit Court-Manchester on May 23, 2016.

A call for service involving a bow and arrow came in on May 22 approximately 10:35 p.m. Officers arrived on scene and were told a male subject was standing near the window of the 11th floor community room of the Pariseau high-rise shooting arrows toward Bridge Street.

Units made attempts to enter the community room, but were initially unsuccessful as the subject inside threw multiple chairs toward the door. He appeared unstable and agitated, so a trained negotiator began conversing with the man, later identified as arrested; Jay Bingel, 36.

Sgt. Aldenberg eventually convinced Bingel to drop his bow and convinced him to resolve the call in a peaceful manner. The officers finally placed him into custody and were able to maintain custody of him. Bingel was charged with Reckless Conduct, Resisting Arrest/Detention and Possession of a Controlled Drug, due to the fact he had .5 grams of marijuana on his person at the time of the arrest.

He appeared in the 9th Circuit Court-Manchester on May 23, 2016.
